I-GST refund: Exporters claiming ₹2,000 cr go missing

OUT OF THE non-traceable 7 star exporters, five operated from Delhi, and one each from Mumbai and Kolkata. Further, the revenue department has received adverse reports about 3 star exporters, two in Mumbai and one in Jaipur. "They were involved in export of ready-made garments, kitchenware, utensils, sound system, amplifiers, microphones, sea food, shrimps, unstitched fabric, sarees and dupattas, among other items. They tried to claim IGST refund amounting to ₹28.9 crore unsuccessfully," the official said Out of 1,474 untraceable exporters, 1,125 exporters are from Delhi alone. Non-existing exporters have also been detected in large numbers at Surat (215), Thane (28), Faridabad (15) and Kolkata (11). "These fraudulent exporters were mainly involved in export of ready-made garments, wallpaper, wall coverings, leather apparel, smoking pipes, mobile phones, cigarette holders, footwear, plastics, floor coverings, ball bearings or roller bearings," a tax official said.

A top tax official said that some exporters identified as fraudulent have been lobbying with some prominent trade associations to claim that government was asking for over 1,500 documents which was affecting genuine exporters where as the Central Board of Indirect Taxes and Customs verifies each exporter in two stage verification with hardly 3-4 documents, the official added.

Another source said the government has so far cleared I-GST refunds of over ₹1.37 lakh crore and only about ₹2,026 crore is pending currently. He added that data analytics based on 360 degree profiling of exporters using multiple data sources (GST, income tax, customs, DGFT, etc) has caught fraudulent exporters from genuine ones with a high degree of success. The analysis, which identified which exporters could be risky, is corroborated after CGST formations carry out a physical and financial verification of the risky exporters.

Tough data storage guidelines likely to deter Chinese apps

THE OTHER provision, which could be applied to apps from firms which are based in countries sharing land border with India, is that they would have to compulsorily store data for around three months.

This provision currently applies to licensed telecom operators but not to any over the top (OTT) players.

By putting such a clause in the proposed intermediary guidelines, the government can always effectively investigate into charges of they indulging in anti-national activities or activities which endanger law and order situation.

With the guidelines distinguishing between firms based in countries sharing land border with the country and those beyond it, a clear distinction can be made between apps and social media platforms of US-based firms like Facebook and Google, officials said.

As is known, the government is in the process of formulating an overall data protection law which would lay down specifically what kind of data is to be stored within the country. The intermediary guidelines would be different from it.

Intermediary guidelines are basically for social media platforms like Facebook, WhatsApp, Google, etc. They are distinguished from other Internet media platforms in the sense that since they do not own or publish original content they have the immunity under IT laws for any alleged malafide items on their platforms. If anything malafide is found or reported on their platform, they are informed and given time to remove such content.

Global prospects bleak for China's technology champions

ALIBABA WAS touting the global prospects for its cloud business, and DJI was consolidating domination of the drone business.

But then came new US sanctions against Chinese tech firms last October, prompted in part by repression of the Muslim Uighur population in the Western province of Xinjiang.

US President Donald Trump has ratcheted up anti-China rhetoric as he seeks re-election and Chinese President Xi Jinping has taken a tough line. Tensions have also risen between Beijing and other countries over new security laws passed for Hong Kong, and a border skirmish with Indian troops led to an India government ban on 59 Chinese apps.

Now China's top tech players are having contracts cancelled, products banned and investments blocked, with more restrictions on the horizon.

ByteDance could be forced to sell TikTok as Washington considers following India in banning the short video app, a global product that analysts say is worth at least $20 billion.

Huawei is set to lose billions of dollars a year in revenue from bans on its network equipment, and more countries could follow the US, Britain and others in blocking the company's gear.

The US interior department has grounded the privately held DJI's fleet and halted additional purchases because of data security risks, and more restrictions could be in the offing. Alibaba Group is cutting staff at its UCWeb subsidiary in India after its popular mobile Web browser was banned by the government. DJI has put IPO plans on ice. The companies are watching geopolitical developments "with white knuckles," said Daniel Ives, managing director of equity research at Wedbush Securities. Huawei, Alibaba, SenseTime and Megvii declined to comment. Byte Dance and Tencent did not respond to requests for comment.

China's foreign ministry said it encourages and directs the country's "strong, reputable companies" to invest overseas in a compliant manner, and hopes other countries will safeguard the legitimate rights and interests of Chinese companies. "International investment is an important engine driver for economic growth. As the global economy is under tremendous downward pressure, all parties should take strong measures to jointly further liberalise and facilitate trade and investment, and create a fair, transparent, and predictable investment environment," it said in a fax.

India to surpass Brazil this week, US in two weeks

POSITIVITY IS defined as the number of new infections as a share of the number of new tests. While India has more than doubled its testing levels in the last month – from 2.1 lakh on July 1 to 5.2 lakh per day – India's five-day average positivity on Monday at 11.7%, was only slightly lower than the all-time high of 12.8% reached on July 25.
